LARYNGOLOGIST
Vancouver, Canada

Vancouver Coastal Health, Providence Health Care, and The University of British Columbia invite applications for a laryngologist to join the Division of Otolaryngology – Head and Neck Surgery at Vancouver General Hospital and St. Paul’s Hospital and in the UBC Department of Surgery in Vancouver, Canada. We seek a candidate with a demonstrated commitment to patient care, teaching, and research in advancing knowledge and management of laryngological disease. The successful applicant will work with an active multi-disciplinary team in teaching medical undergraduates, otolaryngology residents and laryngology fellows, and will work closely with a PhD speech language pathologist specializing in voice care.

The successful candidate must hold certification in Otolaryngology – Head and Neck Surgery from the Royal College of Physicians and Surgeons of Canada and be eligible for licensure by the BC College of Physicians and Surgeons. A master’s degree in education, public health, epidemiology or a related field is recommended. Applicants should demonstrate a record of excellence in training, clinical service and teaching expertise. Rank for a UBC Clinical Faculty appointment is commensurate with qualifications and experience.

Qualified candidates should send a detailed CV, letter of interest, and names of 3 referees to:

Head, UBC Dept. of Surgery
#3100 JPPN – VGH
910 W. 10th Ave.
